

PROJECT: GET IT DONE TOGETHER

Take A Rainbow Walk

With your parent or guardian's approval, take a walk in your neighborhood or in your backyard, and look for something red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and purple along the way. Keep going through the colors, in order, until the end of your walk.

You can do this anywhere, at any time of year. You can spot a lot of different colors in a garden, or if you live in an urban area, you could notice some trees along the sidewalk, or a red car, or even a stop sign.

Here are some suggestions to record your rainbow walk:

- Bring a camera or phone and take a photo of at least one item with each color.
- Bring a sketchbook - even if you're not an artist, this will help you really focus on what you're looking at.
- Write in a journal about the things you noticed and how they made you feel.
