Market Review

Concerns on the rise in Covid-19 cases due to the Delta variant has resulted in Metro Manila, including nearby provinces and select cities, to be placed under the Enhanced Community Quarantine (ECQ) for two weeks. ECQ is the strictest category of lockdown and this is the third time since the start of the pandemic that the Philippines is revisiting this category. Moving forward, this lockdown may dampen growth prospects for the Philippines and may keep investor sentiment lukewarm in the near term. The Philippine government targets to vaccinate 30% of the population by end of August as the country continues to lag the vaccination rates in the region.

Outlook

Local bond yields for July were slightly lower as inflationary pressures from rising oil prices has abated after the OPEC and its allies have settled deals to increase output. July inflation printed at 4%, less than June's 4.1%, on base effects coupled with lower meat and transport prices. In this regard, we expect local inflation to continue to moderate for the second half of 2021. With local inflation finally within the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' target range and the current flush liquidity environment, we expect the Monetary Board to keep both policy rates and Reserve Requirement Ratio (RRR) steady at its August 12 meeting. Against this backdrop, we will keep the neutral duration positioning vis-à-vis the benchmark as we continue to monitor the local and global developments.
