Market Review

In a surprise move, the Philippine Monetary Board raised policy rates last July 14 by 75bps to 3.25% on inflation concerns and the weaker Philippine Peso (Peso). The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) raised inflation forecast to 5% from 4.6% as June inflation increased to 6.1% from 5.4% in May, driven by high oil and food prices. Transport costs rose due to rising fuel prices and the PHP1 jeepney fare hike in four regions of the country. The African Swine Flu continues to affect meat prices while upticks in prices of sugar, flour, and edible oils were also observed. The hawkishness of US Fed, coupled with our widening current account deficit, weighed on the Peso. The Peso sharply depreciated the past few weeks, breaking the 56 level, which probably led to the unexpected rate hike by the BSP. This shift to a more aggressive stance by BSP may open room for another rate hike at the August MB meeting as BSP Governor Medalla commits to take further actions to lead inflation towards its target range of 2-4%.

Outlook

Against the backdrop of the inflation outlook, an aggressive US Fed, weakening currency and the government's large borrowing needs, we are cautious on the local bonds and will continue to keep a shorter duration vis-à-vis the benchmark.

The Fund mentioned in this document is specific to variable life insurance contracts and is not considered a mutual fund. Yields depend on interest and foreign exchange rate levels, both of which may fluctuate. Other factors that affect yield include changes in the credit standing of the issuers and changes in the value of the stocks and dividends received. Further, investments of the Fund may provide that their values be determined based on prices or yields of other securities, instruments or foreign currencies, and such provisions may result in negative fluctuations in the value of these investments and, in turn, the Fund's yields. Thus, the performance of the separate account(s) is not guaranteed and the value of the policy could be less than the capital invested. THE VARIABLE LIFE POLICYHOLDER SHALL BEAR ALL INVESTMENT RISKS. Past performance of the Fund is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Yields are not guaranteed.
