Market Review

The Philippine local bond market performed quite well in May as bond levels have dropped to levels last seen in 2016, reacting to the unprecedented measures taken by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) amid the Covid 19 pandemic. Following the total 125bps policy cut since the start of 2020, the BSP reiterated that it is open to additional policy rate cuts, which may already have been partially priced in by current bond levels.

Amid an environment of optimism seen globally as numerous countries are able to contain the spread of Covid 19, the Philippines has transitioned most of the major cities, including the greater Metro Manila, to a more relaxed General Community Quarantine on June 1. However, the underlying risk remains as possible second and third waves of Covid 19 infections have been seen in several countries, most notably in the ASEAN region.

Outlook

As we move towards a more open environment to help the Philippine economy, the focus will remain on the number of positive Covid 19 cases reported daily and the capability to test a greater portion of the population. As a show of confidence, S&P has affirmed the credit rating of the Philippines at BBB+ (Stable) as they expect the Philippines to make a strong recovery in 2021 following a contraction of 0.2% in 2020. Against this background, we continue to maintain a neutral duration positioning as we wait for more information on the government's borrowing plans for the rest of 2020.

The Fund mentioned in this document is specific to variable life insurance contracts and is not considered a mutual fund. Yields depend on interest and foreign exchange rate levels, both of which may fluctuate. Other factors that affect yield include changes in the credit standing of the issuers and changes in the value of the stocks and dividends received. Further, investments of the Fund may provide that their values be determined based on prices or yields of other securities, instruments or foreign currencies, and such provisions may result in negative fluctuations in the value of these investments and, in turn, the Fund's yields. Thus, the performance of the separate account(s) is not guaranteed and the value of the policy could be less than the capital invested. THE VARIABLE LIFE POLICYHOLDER SHALL BEAR ALL INVESTMENT RISKS. Past performance of the Fund is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Yields are not guaranteed.
