Market Review

The Philippine Stock Exchange Index was up 7.4% in November alongside rally in markets globally like the US which has gone up 3.9% on account of optimistic vaccine developments abroad. This month's performance alongside the 7.9% performance seen in October has trimmed the market's YTD losses lower to -11.5% from -40% during the peak of the pandemic.

The local COVID situation continues to remain manageable as mobility restrictions in major cities continue to keep infection rates at a steady 1,500 to 2,000 new cases per day. We expect introduction of more easing measures to move forward in the coming weeks even if the current GCQ lockdown restrictions in NCR and nearby provinces may continue to remain in place until the end of the year.

The BSP also made a surprise 25bps cut in its policy rates this month, bringing it down further to 2%. This was seen as a response to expectations of slower economic growth due to the impact from the recent typhoons earlier in the month. Also, consumer and business sentiment indicators continue to remain weak with the BSP's Overall Consumer Outlook Composite Index falling to -54 in September 2020. GDP for the third quarter was reported at -11.5% much slower than what market expected at -9.6%.

The Senate also approved the package 2 of the administration's tax reform program or the CREATE bill. This bill aims to reform and restructure corporate taxes and rationalize the country's tax incentive structure. Among the main highlights of the bill include a reduction in corporate income tax rates from 30% to 25% as well as the rationalization of tax holidays for select industries.

Outlook

We expect investors to take profits in the near term on the back of the market's two-month rally vis a vis prospects of an uneven economic recovery. Over the next twelve months, factors that may continue to support a re-rating of the market include the prospects for deployment of the vaccine, renewed infrastructure spending by the government, start of 2022 election spending come 2nd half of 2021 and the passage of additional fiscal measures. In terms of portfolio positioning, we are starting to favor cyclical sectors such as banks and industrials and look to rotate out of staples and utilities as we move closer to 2021.

The investment fund option for The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company's variable life insurance product is managed by Manulife Asset Management and Trust Corporation.

The Fund mentioned in this document is specific to variable life insurance contracts and is not considered a mutual fund. Yields depend on interest and foreign exchange rate levels, both of which may fluctuate. Other factors that affect yield include changes in the credit standing of the issuers and changes in the value of the stocks and dividends received. Further, investments of the Fund may provide that their values be determined based on prices or yields of other securities, instruments or foreign currencies, and such provisions may result in negative fluctuations in the value of these investments and, in turn, the Fund's yields. Thus, the performance of the separate account(s) is not guaranteed and the value of the policy could be less than the capital invested. THE VARIABLE LIFE POLICYHOLDER SHALL BEAR ALL INVESTMENT RISKS. Past performance of the Fund is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Yields are not guaranteed.
