Why Peso Wealth Optimizer Funds?

Investing through a target date approach simplifies asset allocation for an average investor. The asset mix changes over time, becoming more conservative as the investor's financial milestone draws closer.

The change in asset allocation over time is called the glide path which Manulife designed specifically for these funds.

The glide path's objectives include:

- To maximize wealth accumulation prior to target date
- To minimize risk as the target date approaches
- To make wealth last long enough to support any financial needs beyond the chosen target date

Market Review

The Philippine Stock Equity index (PSEi) was up 1.94% in July, ending at 6,591 level. PSEi year to date (YTD) return is at 2.17%. The strength of the local equities market in July echoed the strength seen in global equities as inflation globally continued to decelerate.

On the domestic economy, Inflation for July eased to 4.7% in July from 5.4% in June on the account of decelerating food prices alongside slower increase in housing, electricity, and transportation prices. This was the 6th consecutive month that the inflation declined since peaking at 8.7% in January 2023.

The July inflation of 4.7% remains outside the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' (BSP) long term target of 2-4%. However, BSP mentioned that the July inflation numbers was within its forecast range of 4.1% - 4.9% for the month and was consistent with its overall view that inflation will continue to decelerate back to its target range of 2-4% by fourth quarter this year. On the other hand, the BSP reiterated that the potential impact of rising rice prices, transport fare adjustments and ongoing supply constraints on food supply put upside risks to inflation.

President Ferdinand Marcos Jr. delivered his second State of the Nation Address in July. Among the notable priorities includes the need to increase tax collection and revenue sources for the country. Value Added Tax (VAT) of digital service and taxes on single use plastics are among those highlighted in his speech. President Marcos also discussed the importance of expanding the country's road and bridge network.

In spite of slowing local inflation, local bond yields continued to rise in July, tracking the movement of U.S. Treasuries as the market braced for another hike from the U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed). Indeed, the Fed raised policy rate to 5.25-5.5% in July as U.S. core inflation remained sticky. New BSP Governor Eli Remolona's emphasis on the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' (BSP) inflation-targeting role was initially viewed as the BSP's inclination to follow the Fed's hike. However, with the disappointing 2Q GDP print of 4.3%, the BSP would now need to balance inflation and growth risks faced by the economy. While this reduces the risk of an impending BSP hike, the narrowing interest rate differential between the U.S. and the Philippines has been weighing on the local currency and the overall market sentiment.

Outlook

We have a positive view on Philippine Equities as the macroeconomic environment continues to improve and as PSEi continues to trade at a very attractive 12x PER valuations. In the near term, we continue to see price volatility due to uncertainties surrounding the direction of global interest rates. However, we expect the market to shift its attention back to corporate fundamentals as companies are due to release second quarter results in August. We continue to expect stable overall earnings growth for the listed companies albeit coming from a higher base as 2022 saw strong growth in earnings due to the full impact of the reopening of the economy. We expect strong results coming from sectors like financials which continues to benefit from higher interest rates and select consumer companies that benefits from sustained consumption demand. We are also starting to turn more optimistic on the property sector on the back of stronger sales take up from major key developers.

Recent developments have added to the risks in the local bond market. Nevertheless, we remain optimistic of a positive second half as inflation continues to moderate, with July inflation slowing to 4.7% from 5.4%. We will continue to watch out for upside risks to inflation, particularly the potential effects of El Nino and the recent increase in oil prices.
