Market Review

The local stock market index closed at 7,999, up 0.4% for June. The month started off strongly on follow through buying on property names after last month's implementation of the first round of reserve requirement cuts and Fitch's reiteration of the county's BBB credit rating and stable outlook. However, a couple of secondary share placements, along with accelerating trade war tensions and renewed global growth concerns, brought markets lower from the month's high. Foreign outflows of only USD3 million from this month's FTSE rebalancing were significantly lower than initial expectations of USD47 million, signaling strong demand for Philippine equities from foreign investors. Market valuations inched higher to 19.4x P/E from last month's 19.3x.

On the macro front, inflation figures ticked up slightly to 3.2%. This is higher than the expected 2.9% print and last month's 3%, but still lies comfortably within the BSP's estimated 2.8-3.6% estimate. Average inflation for the year now stands at 3.5%. The BSP is forecasting inflation to continue to drop in 2019 with an estimated average of 2.9%. The uptick in consumer prices was primarily due to higher transportation prices, as well as the increases in vegetable prices which were up 12.5% as a result of the severe dry season. As such, the BSP opted to be more prudent and kept policy rates steady at 4.5%.

Outlook

We continue to have a neutral outlook for Philippine equities. Investors will look to second quarter earnings, which should come out starting next month, for market direction. Meanwhile, global market developments, particularly on the US-China trade debacle, will likely lead to heightened market volatility in the near-term. On a more positive note, declining bond yields may eventually lead to an equities market re-rating, with 10-year yields nearing 5% levels from as high as 8% during the second half of 2018.

With the market continuing to trade within a range of 7,500-8,200, the fund looks to be more opportunistic in its positioning, opting to be more active in rotating out of names which have already gone up and into market laggards. The fund is also starting to build positions in names with improving fundamental stories later in the fourth quarter and 2020.

The Fund mentioned in this document is specific to variable life insurance contracts and is not considered a mutual fund. Yields depend on interest and foreign exchange rate levels, both of which may fluctuate. Other factors that affect yield include changes in the credit standing of the issuers and changes in the value of the stocks and dividends received. Further, investments of the Fund may provide that their values be determined based on prices or yields of other securities, instruments or foreign currencies, and such provisions may result in negative fluctuations in the value of these investments and, in turn, the Fund's yields. Thus, the performance of the separate account(s) is not guaranteed and the value of the policy could be less than the capital invested. THE VARIABLE LIFE POLICYHOLDER SHALL BEAR ALL INVESTMENT RISKS. Past performance of the Fund is not necessarily indicative of future performance. Yields are not guaranteed.
